Murder Mystery Weekend

THE YEAR IS 1983

Ronald Reagan is president. Mario Brothers is a hot new game, and Cabbage Patch dolls are about to become a mania. The last episode of M*A*S*H aired in February. Thriller is the #1 album of the year, followed by Synchronicity by The Police. The computer was TIME Magazine's Person of the Year for 1982. Reagan and Communist Party General Secretary Yuri Andropov will be named co-Persons of the Year for 1983, as the Cold War persists. In Wolfeboro, New Hampshire, Camp Winnepesaukee counselors are getting ready to open camp for the season.

IMMERSE YOURSELF

Examine the evidence. Find clues. Observe behaviors. Search corridors, stairwells, hidden spaces and grounds. Question witnesses. Watch for misdirection, listen for gossip and secreted life stories.

THIS ISN'T DINNER THEATER

This is a full weekend involving multiple murders, where the guests and the staff are playing together. At mealtimes, walking down the hall, sitting at the bar--you'll question what is relevant and who you should be watching more closely.

WHAT TO WEAR

It's the eighties, you know what to do. Big hair, big hoop earrings, pastels and Izod and preppy and neon. Most of all, be comfortable and have fun.
